THEO. N. VAIL WAS BIG FIELD MEET A MAN OF GENIUS WILL CLOSE TODAY

PROMOTED THE TELEPHONE AND WAS PRESIDENT OF GREATEST TELEPHONE SYSTEM IN THE WORLD.

The News carried an Associated Press dispatch yesterday announcing the death of Theo. N. Vail, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., at the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Md., yesterday morning. His biography and a brief history of his achievements is most interesting and seems very appropriate at this time.

As President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, Theodore Newton Vail was the head of the largest telephone system in the world. He was not only its nominal head, but was from the first the genius that promoted the popular use of the telephone, the first man to establish long-distance communication by telephone, and, when past seventy years of age, he was the initiative head of a system that numbered nine million telephone subscribers and represented an investment of a billion and a half dollars.

Mr. Vail was thirty-one years old when Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone, and notwithstanding his age, he was filling the responsible post of General Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service. Still earlier, however, he had been a telegraph operator, and, interested in the possibilities of electrical communication, he had visions that Bell's "toy" would some day be a great factor in American life. Bell and his associates had equal faith in Mr. Vail's organizing genius, for he had already made a name for himself as an organizer in the promotion of the Railway Mail Service and he was easily induced to resign his government post to become the General Manager, in 1878, of the first American Bell Telephone Company.

Even the most optimistic backers of the telephone then thought that the invention would serve only for local communication, but Mr. Vail had visions of its long-distance use. It was he who inaugurated successive steps of inter-city communication. The first line from Boston to Providence was ridiculed as "Vail's side-show," but some of the persons who indulged in the ridicule at that time lived to see Mr. Vail telephone not only from Boston to Providence, but from New York to San Francisco, in 1915, thirty-five years later. Further, in October in that year, they found that it was possible to send the human voice more than half way around the world, as was done by wireless telephone from the government station at Arlington, Va., the words being recorded simultaneously at Honolulu, in the mid-Pacific, and the Eiffel Tower in Paris.

Mr. Vail was known as "the biggest telephone man in the world," not only in tribute to his genius for both mechanical and financial organization, but from the fact that he was personally a man of remarkable physique. He was six feet, two inches tall, and weighed about 280 pounds. With this great physique he had an infinite capacity for hard work, and a genial disposition.

He was born in Carroll County, O., July 16, 1854, of Quaker ancestry. His father, Davis Vail, removed from Ohio to Morristown, N. J., when the son was four years old, and became associated with a brother, Stephen Vail, who had founded the Speedwell Iron Works, near Morristown, where they built much of the machinery for the first trans-Atlantic steamship. Alfred Vail, another brother, was one of those associated with Samuel Morse in the invention and promotion of the telegraph.

Theodore Vail was educated at the old Academy at Morristown, and for a time studied medicine, but becoming interested in the telegraph, he learned to operate the key and went west in 1868 as an operator for the Union Pacific Railroad at Pine Bluffs, Wyo. Pine Bluffs was at that time principal supply point for wood for the Union Pacific, which had not yet been completed. Through the friendship of General Grenville M. Dodge, chief engineer for the Union Pacific, Vail in the next year, was appointed a clerk in the Railway Mail Service, and here his ability to systematize and organize was soon felt. At that time the Railway Mail Service was in an undeveloped stage and Vail prepared special studies on the question of distribution and dispatching of the mail, which brought him quick recognition from the authorities at Washington. It was just after he had been promoted to General Superintendence of the Railway Mail Service that he acted against the advice of his friends, and accepted the position of General Manager of the American Bell Telephone Company.

Mr. Vail set for himself the task of making the telephone a universal convenience, and it was on his initiative that every possible improve-

ALLIES DECIDE TO USE LARGE ARMY IN TURKEY TO INSURE EXECUTION OF TREATY TERMS.

By the Associated Press

SAM REMO, April 17.—The Allied nations will be called upon to maintain a force of thirty thousand in Turkey to insure execution of the terms of the treaty with that country, which was framed at London recently, it was understood.

This treaty will be considered by the Supreme Council when it opens in session here next Monday.

Announcements that Marshal Foch of France and Field Marshal Wilson of Great Britain will be present, are regarded as indicating that military experts will be called upon by the council before it decides finally on the terms to be submitted to the Sultan of Turkey, if the Allies are disposed to furnish large numbers of soldiers to impose the terms of the treaty on the Turks is indicated.

Other features of the treaty to be given consideration are the organization of an allied supervision at Constantinople and a formation of a commission to control the Dardanelles.

It is expected proposals will be made to admit the Balkan States, including Bulgaria, to the membership in this commission.

PANHANDLE CITIES RAISE CASH TO BUILD ROAD

By News' Special Service

LIBERAL, Kansas, April 17.—Funds were raised by subscription here yesterday at combined meeting of the Liberal chamber of commerce and the Forgan, Okla., chamber of commerce to make up the $25,000 deficit for the $100,000 needed to complete a railroad between the two towns. Beaver, Okla., raised $10,000, independent of the other two towns. The road is to be built by O. P. Byers.

Grading and laying of steel on the new road is to be started the latter part of next week. The line will be twenty-six miles in length and will connect the Wichita Falls and Northwestern railway with the main line of the Rock Island at Liberal. Plans are being made to extend the new road on west into Springfield, Col., to open up a new rich agricultural district.

JUDGE CURRAN ORDERS HIM TO ORDER MEMBERS OF THE MINERS UNION BACK TO WORK.

By the Associated Press

PITTSBURG, Kan., April 17.—Judge Andrew Curran this morning ordered Alexander Howat and other district officials of the Kansas Miners Union, to order back to work the miners who have been idle for a week. The action was taken on the motion of R. J. Hopkins, Attorney General of Kansas, giving permission to amend the petition of the state for a permanent injunction against a strike.

The judge ordered the union officials to take this action, or to show cause for not doing so in court April 27th. On this date the hearing of the application to make a temporary injunction, issued two weeks ago, permanent will occur.

All of the mines, except one deep mine and three steam shovel pits, were idle today. About 11,700 miners are not working.

St. Louis Strikers to Quit

By the Associated Press

ST. LOUIS Mo., April 17.—Striking yardmen, in this district, met today, it was said, to consider calling off the unauthorized strike. J. S. Eubank, president of the local yardmen's Association, announced that the men would return to work as soon as they were assured the Railway Labor Board would recognize the union and consider their demands for an increase in wages.

WITH CONTINUED IMPROVEMENT ON VIRTUALLY ALL LINES STRIKERS CONTINUE TO RETURN TO WORK.

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 17.—A marked disintegration of outlaw railroad strikers in New York and vicinity was claimed today by railroad officials, who said conditions generally appeared brighter than at any time since the walkout began.

Co-incident with the continued improvement on virtually all railroad lines on headway made in moving freight at congested terminals, groups of strikers in a wide spread area began to return to work.

Some of the strikers quit meetings in disgust last night, according to reports from railroad officials, while others openly expressed their dissatisfaction at a failure of leaders to obtain the demanded concession. The striker's meetings were sparsely attended, the report said, and enthusiasm seemed to be lacking.

Alumni of Normal Have Perfected An Organization

Immediately after the alumni banquet in the library rooms at the Normal last evening a permanent organization of the alumni of East Central Normal was perfected. Quite a number of the graduates of the institution were present and were warmly in favor of forming such an organization.

In the election of officers, Roy Robinson of Wetumka was elected president. He is a member of the class of 1916 and at present is superintendent of schools at Wetumka. Mrs. Ruth Carter of the Normal was made secretary-treasurer. The membership fee was fixed at $1.00 per year. A committee on constitution and by-laws was appointed consisting of Tal Crawford, Miss Leone Steed, and Miss Mary Esther Chisholm.

In addition to the general organization the alumni who live in Ada entered into a local organization. The officers of this local branch are Orel Busby, president, and Mrs. Wilbur P. Lee, secretary-treasurer. A great deal of interest in the project was displayed by all the alumni present.

STRIKE CALLED OFF IN CHICAGO

UNDERSTOOD THAT ALL MEN WILL ATTEND MASS MEETING THIS AFTERNOON FOR SETTLEMENT.

BULLETIN

CHICAGO, April 17.—Hope for settlement of the railroad strike early here today was apparently lost this morning, when the Grand Lodge officers, directors and trustees of the outlaw unions reiterated their original demands and added new ones to the list.

It was reported when the leaders of the insurgent organizations went into session that they were planning to advise their men to return to work.

The demand that the rebel organization be made the governing body for the switchmen would take approximately 66,000 members from the brotherhood of railroad trainmen and about 50,000 from the switchmen's union of North America, leaders say.

In addition to the two demands of the previous list, apparently there has been a split between the roads and the brotherhoods on the one hand and the strikers on the other.

The general managers and the brotherhoods here have given the strikers until midnight to return to work under a penalty of losing their seniority. The same action has been taken elsewhere.

John Grunau, president of the insurgent organization, indicated he was prepared to go ahead with the strike despite the arrest of himself and twenty-four associates on charges of conspiracy to violate the Lever Food Control Act.

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 17.—The railway strike will be called off here today, it was reported at headquarters of the Chicago Yardmen's Association this morning.

A mass meeting of the strikers, at which they will be advised to return to work, is to be held this afternoon, it was said.

It was said that their objective has been obtained, and that their wage demands would receive the prompt attention of the new Railway Labor Board, and that the union would continue with or without the sanction of the railway.

Union officials pointed out that the proposed plan of advising the men to return to work is as nearly an order to return to their posts as the leader can give, in view of their contentions that the walkout was a movement of individuals and that the Union chief had no power to force them to return to work.

At the union headquarters, it was said such a suggestion would be sufficient to break the strike in the Chicago switching district, where 8,000 men walked out 17 days ago.

NATION'S CAPITAL PICKETED AGAIN

BANDS OF WOMEN AGAIN PARADING THE STREETS OF WASHINGTON DOING POLITICAL PICKETING

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Political picketing, often of the peaceful sort, and more often with militant accompaniments, is running epidemic in Washington again and the thousands of tourists who make the national capital their Mecca all year round again see bands of women slowly parading about the streets bearing banners with a wide variety of inscriptions.

Seemingly, every cause which wishes to impress its demands, arguments or protests on "the powers that be" ultimately adopts the picketing system which was first introduced in the capital by a branch of the woman suffragists about ten years ago. The latest to adopt the method are women espousing the cause of Irish freedom and they have directed their protests against the British embassy. Their campaign has caused somewhat of flurry because it is not without its international aspects.

The British embassy, for instance, is foreign territory; whether the sidewalk in front of it is American territory, no one has essayed to decide. Moreover, there is a federal law which penalizes any person who "assaults" a diplomatic representative of a friendly power. Whether the picketing of the embassy is an annoyance to the British diplomats, and whether an annoyance is an assault within the technical meaning of the law is an additional question.

Then there is involved the question of preserving the public peace, for disturbances often grow out the picketing. Often, some woman passerby, expresses her disagreement with the banners the pickets bear, ripping them to bits and the pedestrian and the picket have a scuffle, with sometimes regular old fashioned hair pulling. The police patrol clangs up, both parties to the quarrel are hustled off to the station house. Relief pickets immediately arrive. The police court gets another case.

The personnel of the picketing forces furnishes an interesting study in human nature. They are women apparently from all walks of life. Many bear evidences of breeding, education and social position. Others are women who appear to be of the opposite types. Every picketing campaign brings out new charges that many pickets are "hired" for the work by others who are willing to provide substitutes and do not wish to picket in the streets in all sorts of weather.

The News Follows Coca-Cola Lead

Everybody knows that the war has revolutionized the world, causing an unprecedented reign of unrest and high prices, and the man who is surprised at anything that happens is the exception and not the rule.

However, the greatest jar we have had in the slates for some time came yesterday when the average small glass of Coca-Cola went to ten cents. It was almost such a jar as we got when shaves went from fifteen cents to a quarter. Everything the ultimate consumer uses, in fact, has jumped in price from one hundred to five hundred per cent within the last year.

We are willing to admit, too, that the retailer has no control over the price. The fact that the News pays thirteen cents a pound for print paper that it formerly bought at three cents is no fault of ours—whose fault it is we are unprepared to say at this writing, but the fact remains.

The News employs twenty-five high priced people and they are all habitual Coca-Cola drinkers. We have the habit and you know that any habit is hard to quit, or cure.

Prominent New Hampshire Woman Says Tanlac Brought About a Wonderful Change In Her Condition.

Mrs. AURORE BARRETTE,
Of Manchester, New Hampshire.

"Tanlac is a grand medicine, and I think every suffering woman ought to know about it," was the statement made recently by Mrs. Aurore Barrette, at her residence, 133 Second Street, Manchester, New Hampshire. Mrs. Barrette is a well known and highly respected resident of that city.

"I have not felt at all well for the past year or more," she continued, "I haven't been sick enough to be in bed, but I was far from being a well woman. At times I thought I had kidney trouble, for I suffered almost constantly from severe pains across my back, just over the kidneys. Whenever I tried to do any house-work at all that dull pain would be there, and if I attempted to stoop over it just felt as though my back would break. I would get so weak and worn out I would have to sit down and rest several times a day, and I felt tired all the time. This condition made me awfully nervous, so that I rarely ever slept well at night, and every now and then I would jump in my sleep, as if in a fright, and my condition was really becoming serious."

"Only two bottles of Tanlac have brought about a wonderful change in my condition. In fact, the results I have received from this medicine have really surprised me. Those terrible pains in my back which used to trouble me every day have almost disappeared, and I am going to keep on taking Tanlac until they leave me entirely. I have lots of energy now, and am not only able to do my house work, but I get through the day without feeling the least bit tired. I am no longer nervous like I was, and I sleep well at night."

I shall always be thankful for what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Co., in Stonewall by L. P. Carpenter, in Francis by Francis Drug Co., and in Roff by Dowdy's Pharmacy.

BELGIUM MAKES RAPID PROGRESS IN RECOVERING

By the Associated Press

BRUSSELS, April 16.—Belgium has made rapid progress toward industrial recovery since the armistice largely owing to the fact that the country has had no serious strikes, says M. Jaspar, Minister of Economic Affairs. He estimates that the nation's industrial output has now attained perhaps 70 per cent of its pre-war record and that its mines are producing as much coal as in the year before the war.

"About 70 percent of our material which was taken out by the Germans has been returned to us," added M. Jaspar. "The money taken by the Germans from the Belgian treasury has been returned but Belgium has thus far received no indemnity from Germany. At the beginning of the armistice 800,000 of our people were without work. Our recovery has been made in spite of the fact that more than one-half of the Belgians who had to flee before the Germans are still in France unable to return because they have no homes here."

Belgian villages destroyed in the war are being rebuilt, said M. Jaspar. In the district of Ypres 18 villages have been restored to such an extent that local administration has been resumed. "If the United States would do for Belgium what she has just done for Poland, establish a credit for her, most of our problems would be solved," declared the Minister of Economics.

JUDAS AND HIS SILVER

One of the many nightmares of the war period was the general fear that some allied nation might make a separate peace with Germany. The vocabulary of invective was exhausted in denouncing the nation that might possibly sign a separate peace with the Hun. There is nothing in the language of imprecation surpassing in bitterness the vials of wrath poured out on Russia following her surrender to Germany.

Any dark days came during the war. The darkest days were those of Caporetto and Verdun. They were inexpressibly dark because the world had cause to fear that Italy and France might throw up their hands and yield to the armies of the Teuton. The most passionate appeals from America and the other allies went out to Italy and France urging them to fight to the last ditch. They were warned of the unspeakable contempt that awaited the nation that considered a separate treaty of peace. Imperishable glory was added to the standards of the Latins because of their fidelity to a common cause even when their very heart's blood poured out in battle.

But the contempt of the nations is reserved for the United States. The infamy so bitterly denounced by America in 1918 is copyrighted by the United States in 1920. The silver of Iscariot gleams in the eyes of the American congress as the representatives of all the people consider a separate peace with Germany. The purpose of the resolution declaring peace is expressed with brutal frankness in the resolution itself. "In order that we may have reciprocal trade relations with Germany" is given as the reason for forfeiting the respect of the world.

What has become of the holy passion with which America once denounced the signer of a separate peace? What has become of the mid-war assertion that we would out law forever and forevermore the trade mark "Made in Germany"? In what respect are the traitors of Brest-Livotsk more pusillanimous than the congress of all the people? Those sold their nation to save their land from carnage. These are selling their nation to open a pathway for trade. Gold has proven more powerful than the Prussian armies. Thus after all these years Arnold receives his vindication and Iscariot becomes the patron saint of the American people.

WHY A LIMIT ON SLUSH FUNDS

The proposal of Senator Borah to limit the amount of money a candidate for the presidency may spend is all right as far as it goes, but it hardly goes far enough. The proposed law would be more nearly in keeping with the ideals and traditions of America if it provided that no money whatever should be spent to advance the interests of a presidential aspirant. There is something disgusting in the idea of spending a fortune to convince the people that a candidate is the best man for president in the entire nation.

Somehow or other we can hardly conceive of Washington or Jefferson or Jackson or Lincoln maintaining palatial headquarters and scattering money with lavish hands to win a presidential nomination. Things were not done in that way when the fathers were on earth. And it is repugnant to every sense of decency to see two dozen American mediocres spending millions of money in a campaign to convince the public that each of the candidates is the best man in America to be president.

It is doubtful if any man who thinks he ought to be president, is really big enough to be president. It is altogether certain that any man who pleads for the presidency, either with public speeches or financial appeals, is not big enough for the position he seeks. When a man announces for the presidency he is announcing at the same time that he is the biggest man in the United States. The very fact that he announces is sufficient proof that he is not as big a man as he claims to be.

The people ought to select presidential nominees as they select presidents. They ought to know who of all the men in America is best qualified for the office and who is the proper man to make the race. No man should be permitted to flood the country with campaign literature and campaign cash boosting himself for the most important position on earth. The Borah bill should be amended in such a way that no man can spend a dollar in campaigning for a presidential nomination.

Such a pity that national prohibition didn't come before Poe wrote "The Raven."

ALUMNI BANQUET
FRIDAY EVENING
HIGHLY ENJOYED

The alumni banquet at East Central last evening was one of the pleasing features of the district meet that closes this afternoon. A goodly number of the Normal graduates were present to take part in the festivities, while various civic organizations of the city had representatives at the banquet as special guests of the alumni and Normal.

Supplementary to the splendid refreshments enjoyed by the audience a speaking program was carried out by a number of selected speakers. Judge Busby, who was a member of the first class graduated from East Central, was toastmaster and introduced the speakers in a humorous way that was more pleasing to the audience than to some of the speakers introduced. He grew reminiscent and told of some of the handicaps that early students of the Normal labored under. Inasmuch as the judge now has several Normal girls rooming at his home, he strongly urged a special rule limiting sparkling over the phone to thirty minute sessions.

Representing the faculty Dr. M. L. Perkins told of the opening of East Central. Thorough work has been insisted on from the day the school opened and this high standard has had much to do with raising the standard of all state institutions. He expressed regret at leaving the school at the end of eleven years service and urged the maintenance of the same high standard and ideals that have always characterized East Central.

Robert Wimbish as representative of the Lions Club took issue with the toastmaster and opposed any limitation on courting over the telephone or otherwise. He urged even greater latitude and longer hours than are now permitted.

Mrs. Tom. Hope gave the real truth concerning who was responsible for locating a state normal at Ada. While some dozen politicians have claimed that each was individually responsible for bringing the school here, Mrs. Hope proved to the satisfaction of her hearers that the women of Ada are entitled to the credit. She revealed the fact that the mere men of Ada preferred one of the insane asylums, and while she admitted that an asylum is needed here, she declared it was the women who insisted on working for a school, and that the women have always been active in supporting the school.

Superintendent Hickman of the city schools told of the warm relations existing between the schools of Ada and East Central. He paid a high compliment to the graduates of East Central now teaching in the public schools and complimented their loyalty and efficiency.

Superintendent Roy Robison of Wetumka told of the early days of East Central. He came from a farm near Lovelady and entered the Normal as an eighth grade student, graduating in 1916.

Luther Harrison spoke of Oklahoma and East Central. He spoke of the strong friendship of Governor Robertson for East Central and mentioned the interest the present governor has in the growth and development of the institution. He deprecated the tendency of so many of our people to display state pride in the state of their nativity and slight the state of their adoption. We need fewer Texans and Kansas "over the line" and more genuine Oklahomans.

Dr. Gordon was the last speaker. He spoke very briefly, as the hour had arrived for beginning the contests in the auditorium. He thanked the audience for its interest in the school and predicted greater accomplishments in the future.

A large part of the success of the evening is due to the Domestic Science department of the Normal, which under the efficient supervision of Miss Francisco served the refreshments of the evening.

Winners In Army
Essay Contest Get a Trip To Washington

The three national winners of the National School Essay Contest which was recently run under the auspices of the Regular Army under the War Department's plan for bringing the new peace time army and the people of the country into closer contact, are to be tendered a reception in Washington on their arrival May 5th. The three youngsters, each one accompanied by a parent, will be greeted by a committee which is unusually unique in its composition.

Each state from which the three winners come will be represented by a wounded soldier from the Walter Reed Hospital. In addition on the committee will be nationwide known representatives of labor, of the War Department, of the Bureau of Education, and of the numerous welfare organizations which worked among the troops during the war. The Secretary of War will make the awards.

The Essay Contest was probably the biggest thing of its kind which has been run in this country. Thousands of essays were written by the school children in every state of the Union, and the prizes, local, county, state, and national, for the most part contributed by interested merchants ran up into the hundreds of thousands of dollars in value.

"What are the Benefits of an Enrollment in the Army" was the subject, and there can be no question but that some of the thousands of men who are now joining the colors each week were influenced in their decision by the enthusiasm of their younger brothers and sisters, and the literature brought home by them showing the vast university of khaki into which the new peace time army is to be transformed.

CHURCH CENSUS GIVES
STONEWALL OVER 700

STONEWALL, April 17.—While the official government census figures for 1920 are not yet available, a church census was made of the incorporated town of Stonewall by members of the Methodist and Baptist churches last Tuesday. The church census gives the following results: Methodist, 115; Baptists, 147; Christian, 30; Presbyterians, 2; Episcopalians, 1; Holiness, 18; Catholics, 14; belonging to no church, 318; total 682. Some several families were missed in the census, which makes a total run of over 700.

The government census for 1910 gave Stonewall 494. These figures do not include many families living just outside the town limits, and who are in reality a substantial part of Stonewall. Bank deposits in Stonewall are close around $700,000 mark; it takes three gings to take care of the annual cotton crop; many car loads of small grain and corn are marketed here annually; and taken all in all Stonewall is, without question, the BIGGEST little town in Oklahoma.

EVERYONE WEARS
OVERALLS IN CITY OF BIRMINGHAM

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 16.—The lowly overall today supplanted the "pinch back" in Birmingham.

Rainy weather served to encourage those who had resolved "to see what the other fellow did" before they donned denim themselves. As a result the pledge to "put 'em on to day" was generally kept.

City commissioners functioned in denim; judges applied the law in the same uniform; bankers, doctors, lawyers and merchants wore their overalls with assurance. Men in all walks of life mingled and cheered one another on in the fight against the high cost of clothing.

The women had "organized" at home. Towards noon many appeared on the street in dresses of calico and gingham.

Retail clothiers have advertised "bargain sales" in men's wear and lower price marks were observed in some of the store windows. The cost of overalls is $6 and there seems to be an unlimited supply.

"I would rather pay $6 for my overalls than $60 for a suit," said Judge Wm. E. Fort of the circuit court. "This movement is no joke. It will bring down the cost of clothing."

Minister to Preach in Em
LIBERA, Mo., April 16.—Rev. W. E. Matthews, pastor of the Methodist church here, will wear overalls when he appears in his pulpit Sunday to preach.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 16.—An "over-all club" was formed in Louisville today by the Exchange club in an effort to force down the cost of clothing. Eighty-five members pledged their support to the movement, which has been endorsed by Mayor George Smith.

CHEROKEE CITIZENS FAVOR THE MANAGER FORM

By News' Special Service

CHEROKEE, April 17.—By a vote of 179 to 23 the citizens of Cherokee went on record yesterday as favoring further proceedings in regard to a managerial form of government. In only one ward was there opposition to the men sponsored by the chamber of commerce for freeholders. The independent man defeated one of the nominees of the chamber. Little interest was manifested in the election as it was conceded that it would carry almost unanimously.

Juvenile Quartet
Are Charged With Entering of Grocery

A delinquency charge was filed in juvenile court this morning against four under-age boys alleging that they were the parties who broke into the grocery of Harvey Luther one night recently. Two of the boys are named Loman and two are named Stapleton. All of them live in Ada. It is said that the two Loman boys have been in juvenile court before and that they now are under suspended sentence to the state training school at Pauls Valley. Officers state that the Lomans admitted their guilt and implicated the Stapleton boys in the burglary.

The Luther store was entered several nights ago, and it was reported at the time that a quantity of flour had been stolen. While the Loman boys admit entering the store, it is said that they stoutly maintain their innocence of taking any flour.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Mexico's request for permission to send troops through American territory so as to attack Sonora from the north, has been referred to the war department by the state department. State department officials said the request had not come officially from the Mexican Government, as they stated yesterday, but from high officers of the Mexican army.

FLUCTUATION IN COTTON TO CEASE

SHOULD NOT BE NECESSARY TO REMOVE RULE PROHIBITING FLUCTUATIONS BEYOND
2 CENT LIMIT

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 17.—Correspondence between the Federal Bureau of Markets and officials of the New York Cotton Exchange which has just been made public here indicates that the suspension of the rule limiting daily fluctuations in futures to 200 points may not be removed to again in the case of unanticipated default.

This official statement from the vice-president of the Exchange, who also informed the Bureau of Markets that in order to eliminate the possibility of anybody claiming an unintentional default by reason of the 2 cent trading limit, the limit would be removed to the attention of the exchange authorities by the Bureau of Markets in a letter requesting exact information.

Replying to the inquiry, Leopold S. Bache, vice-president of the exchange, emphatically denied any possibility that a member of the exchange short of the maturing month, who waited until the last day and then, failing to find contracts for sale at the maximum price, would be given the benefit of this provision, and added that in his opinion, "such action would subject the member to a severe penalty as the proceeding under no conception of the rule could be considered as an unpremeditated and unintentional default, unless there were some other qualifying conditions."

This official statement from the vice-president of the Exchange, who also informed the Bureau of Markets that in order to eliminate the possibility of anybody claiming an unintentional default by reason of the 2 cent trading limit, the limit would be removed on March contracts from March 22nd to March 25th inclusive, owing to apprehensions that it might give rise to claims of an unintentional failure to make deliveries of actual cotton or properly complete the terms of the contract. It seems that such apprehensions had developed out of a misunderstanding of the exact character of the New York contract and trading rules providing for a penalty of 25 points above the spot price in the case of an unintentional default. The existence of the impression in the South and elsewhere, that shorts of maturing contracts might avoid deliveries

THE MOTOR AGE

There are nearly 7,000,000 cars in use and a railway authority states that the seating capacity of automobiles exceeds that of all the railways and street cars of the country combined, while the passenger miles traveled annually exceed those of street cars and steam railroads.

In actual wages it is said that the amount paid these employees is $747,000,000, of which the automobile factories pay $275,000,000; the parts and accessories factories, $228,000,000 and the dealers and garages, $184,000,000.

FERRIS ANALYZES RELIEF MEASURE

HAS PERSISTENTLY FOUGHT FOR SOLDIERS RELIEF MEASURES AND EXPLAINS HIS PO-SITION THEREON.

By News' Special Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.—Representative Scott Ferris of Oklahoma, who has been energetically urging the expedition of soldiers relief legislation, today gave out a statement in which he analyzed the measure as favored by him, into four salient provisions: First; Land settlement aid contemplating long time loans, low rates of interest, Loans for stocking the farms and making it a success. Second; Home aid Contemplating homes in the community of their choice. Third; Vocational training contemplating additional education in trades, etc. Fourth; Adjusted compensation, commonly called the cash bonus plan, the soldiers to have the option of the four plans. "This is as it should be," Ferris stated, "and I believe will meet with the approval of soldiers." Ferris objects to the contemplated method of raising the money to carry out the soldier legislation program and stated today regarding this subject: "I am advised informally that the ways and means committee which is charged with the responsibility of raising the money necessary to carry out this law have under con-temptation the raising of it by direct tax on every purchase made throughout the length and breadth of the country. I am perfectly sure this is not the proper way to raise this money. To do it in this way will irritate the public and arouse hostility towards the soldier's interests which will be detrimental to the soldier's interest in years to come. "I am urging the committee and congress to adopt a more equitable plan which will reach over a long period of years and not at this time be an additional burden to the taxpayers. "This will enable the taxpayers to dispose of the war burdens first and the soldier legislation can be paid for in the future at a time when we are not carrying the burden of a $30,000,000 war expenditure and at a time when the tax payers are carrying all the load they can well carry. I do not want soldier's future interests injured by the passage of a law which is both necessary and just, by weighting it down with any ponderous or unpopular method of raising the money. This tax question would seem to be as important to the soldiers as it is to the taxpayers."

GIRL REPORTER COVERS KENTUCKY NEGRO LYNCHING

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 15.—While editors of metropolitan newspapers decried the laxity of telephone operators and their correspondents, the Misses Dot Hockaday and Ruth Thomas, the entire staff of the Maysville (Ky.) Independent, "scooped" them on the recent lynching of Grant Smith, negro in Fleming county.

Hearing that the negro had been taken by a mob from the Paris, Ky., jail and rushed in the darkness toward Fleming county, the girls hired an automobile truck and for two hours combed the county for traces of the mob and negro.

They traveled over roads which they described as "fearful" and 10 o'clock finally came within view of the mob's automobiles. Parking the truck, the girls crept near the scene. They saw preparations for the hanging and watched as Smith was being strung up. After the crowd dispersed they inspected the body, took notes and hurried back to Maysville and put out an extra edition before 12 o'clock.

Meantime, all other correspondents who were racing through the county in fast automobiles, failed to locate the hanging.

The Misses Hockaday and Thomas editor and reporter, respectively, of the Independent, transmitted the news to other newspapers for last editions.

Not only did the girl reporters score a "signal scoop" but it was the first time on record that a woman reporter had "covered" a lynching in Kentucky.

Hardware Dealer Is The First Kidnaper to be Placed on Trial

By the Associated Press

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., April 17.—Harry Edward Wootton, a hardware dealer of Bisbee, Arizona, was the first of more than 200 defendants to be tried on a charge of kidnapping in connection with the deportation of 1,186 striking copper miners and their sympathizers from Bisbee to Columbus, New Mexico, July 12, 1917. In Arizona, the penalty for kidnapping is imprisonment for not less than one and not more than ten years.

The story of the deportations as told in a report of the mediation commission appointed by President Wilson, and headed by Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, is briefly as follows:

"Early on the morning of July 12, the sheriff and a large armed force presuming to act as deputies under the sheriff's authority, comprising about 2,000 men, rounded up 1,186 men in the Warren district, put them aboard a train, and carried them to Columbus New Mexico. The authorities at Columbus refused to permit those in charge of the deportation to leave the men there, and the train carried them back to the desert town of Hermans, New Mexico, a near-by station. The deportees were wholly without adequate supply of food and water and shelter for two days. At Hermans, the deported men were abandoned by the guards who had brought them, and they were left to shift for themselves. The situation was brought to the attention of the War Department, and on July 14 the deportees were escorted by troops to Columbus, where they were maintained by the government until the middle of September."

The defense made on behalf of Wootton, who was specifically charged with kidnapping Fred W. Brown, at the time of the deportations a representative of the American Federation of Labor, was that the law of necessity justified the alleged violation of statute law. Captain Harry C. Wheeler, veteran of the Spanish-American war and of the Great War, who was sheriff of Cochise county at the time of the deportations, and who repeatedly assumed full responsibility for them, declared on the witness stand that he decided upon the deportations as the only means of safeguarding the lives and the property of the people of the Warren district and of protecting the interests of the United States Government. The strikers were endeavoring to tie up an important part of the country's copper output and therefore were injuring the county and hindering it in the prosecution of its war against Germany, Captain Wheeler testified.

After considering the question for nearly two weeks, Judge Samuel L. Pattee ruled that the defense would be permitted to show conditions in the Warren district in an effort to establish that the law of necessity would apply. The court declined to permit Wootton's attorney to adduce evidence as to the nationwide anti-government conspiracy alleged by them, until the foundation for such evidence had been laid by proof of menacing conditions in the Warren district.

It was not long, however, before the issue of what County Attorney Robert N. French who conducted the prosecution, termed "I. W. W.ism" was frankly injected into the case. The defense introduced in evidence photostatic copies of alleged I. W. W. documents tending to show that the strike called in the Warren district June 26, 1917, was designed more as an aid to the mine strike in Butte, Montana, than in force, than as a means of obtaining better conditions for the miners of the Warren district.

The trial began February 2. More than five weeks were consumed in the selection of a jury, the actual taking of evidence commencing March 10.

INTER-CHURCH MOVEMENT TO BE PRESENTED SUN.

By News' Special Service

OKLAHOMA CITY April 17.—Letters requesting that they present from their pulpits next Sunday the plan of the Interchurch World Movement for raising a budget of $326,777.572, of which $175,000.00 is to be paid in this year, has been sent to all pastors of the thirty co-operating denominations by Rev. Perry E. Pierce, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Muskogee, who is here directing the state campaign.

The campaign is to open on Sunday, April 25th, and to continue through Sunday, May 2nd.

Just as these great denominations have come together and formulated a program of co-operation in meeting the religious, social and educational needs of the world, so will it be necessary for members of your church and of all other churches to co-operate in putting over this campaign," Mr. Pierce said. "We have before us the task of raising—for the co-operating denominations, not for the Interchurch World Movement—what at first appears to be a gigantic sum, but it is what a survey of the whole world has shown to be necessary, and it is known in advance what is to become of every dollar raised. It is a plan for putting church finances absolutely on a business basis."

NATIONAL CAPITAL

PICKETED AGAIN

the police court jocket and finally having a hunger strike, patterned after their British sisters, were composed apparently of women of all classes. Many whose names are nationally known did picket duty, spent nights in a police station cell and finally did time in the work house. Some of them, if the truth were known, were freed by husbands who disapproved of their actions. There was more than one case of a husband promising the authorities he would undertake the responsibility of making his wife "be good," and more cases of stormy scenes at the workhouse when the husband arrived to take the wife home over her protests.

With the adoption by Congress of the resolution for the woman suffrage amendment to the constitution the suffragists laid off, but they had fired an example in a local association of negroes who were demanding the dismissal of a man of their race from the local school administration. So the negro women in emulation picketed the streets surrounding the school administration buildings bearing banners. Their picketing, however, was intermittent, and the negro educator to whom they objected still holds his job.

British humor all but broke up the picketing of the British embassy, with its possibilities of disagreeable incidents of an international flavor, when on the first day, the embassy officials sent out and invited the pickets into afternoon tea. It probably was a temptation for a cold raw wind was sweeping the city, but the leaders pulled stern faces and declined the invitation. The embassy is on Connecticut avenue in the heart of the downtown business and residence district not far from Dupont circle. The neighborhood might be compared to Fifth Avenue in New York in the fifties.

Thousands of shoppers, tourists and government clerks and officials on their way to office pass by and for days there was always a small crowd watching the pickets and hoping for a scrimmage. The old and deserted Austrian embassy once the scene of social gaieties in the prosperous days of the Hapsburgs stands grim, silent and dusty just across the street. Nobody knows who owns it now, it is a highly valuable piece of property gone begging. Not far away is the house James G. Blaine occupied while Secretary of State. Dolly Madison's house is not far off in another direction. Practically every building in the vicinity has housed some notable at some time or other and the neighborhood is a playground for the sight-seeing wagons. The pro-Irish pickets selected a battle ground where there will be plenty of onlookers.

The first arrests of the Irish picketers were not unaccompanied by elements of humor. The police captain who took them in was Robert Emmett Doyle rosy-cheeked and blue-eyed, who couldn't possibly deny he was a son of Erin. All the policemen on the job were O'Connell's and Regans and Flahertys or bore names unmistakably neither Greek nor Yiddish. Their comments on the proceedings were neutral and humorous.

The whole proceeding was conducted in the height of courtesy and polite formality. There was no "come along, you're pinched". Instead, Captain Doyle raised his cap, and with an engaging smile said: "Ladies, these are policewomen who will place you under arrest." Then the men stepped back and the women did the job.

Christ is walking life's shores again!
Christ is choosing his fishermen,
With nets far-spread for their hauling!
Christ looks in at the office door!
Christ is searching mill and store—
It's you! It's you He's calling!

"Lord, I'll pray here in my pew!"
"Pray—but My laborers are few,
And earth is nigh disaster!"
"Lord I'll serve with my sect and creed!
Let others meet the wide world's need!"
"I need all sects!" says the Master!

"Lord, my business holds me here!"
"Lord, I am planning a great career—Success will crown my trying!"
"Lord, my fields await the plow!"
"Lord, my orchards burgeon now!"
But the fisher of souls keeps crying!

Lift the sail, with its blood-red cross!
Lift it where the wild seas toss
Till all lands hail its glowing!
Who will help where it cleaves the dark?
Who will be a John or Mark?
Clasp Christ's hand, and be going!

This poem is the contribution of Daniel Henderson, well known as a magazine man and writer of verse, to the success of the Interchurch World Movement, which is thirty denominations in co-operation. The purpose of the International enterprises all over the world.
